

FILM & MEDIA STUDIES

This class is focused on developing your ability to identify and analyze basic principles in photography, film and video, and mass media/social media. Not only will you be able to demonstrate a command of basic vocabulary within the fields, but also experience a hands-on approach to creating your own works for art and/or content. You will be familiar with the foundation of each discipline and begin to recognize the development from classic to contemporary approaches to content creation. The course is divided into three sections to allow for a more focused experience related to each theme.

Key topics in Junior Film & Media:

- Media Studies
- Institutions
- Social Media
- Representation in Film and Media

Key topics in Senior Film & Media:

- Film History
- Historical Movements in Film
- Editing and Production in Film
- Media Influence and the Social Sphere